AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION.

By a Supplementary Charter under the Great Seal, granted in 1856, the Society is empowered to grant Diplomas

From 1858 to 1899 the Society held an annual Examination for Certificate & Diploma in Agriculture, winners of the Diploma (F.H.A.S.) being elected Free Life Members of the Society

In 1898 it was resolved by the Royal Agricultural Society of England & the Highland & Agricultural Society of Scotland to discontinue the independent Examinations in Agriculture held by the two Societies, & to institute in their stead a Joint-Examination for a National Diploma in Agriculture (N.D.A.). This Examination is now conducted under the management of the "National Agricultural Examination Board" appointed by the two Societies

VETERINARY DEPARTMENT.

The Society established a veterinary department in 1823, but by an arrangement made with the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons, the Society's examination ceased in 1881. Holders of the Society's Veterinary Certificate are entitled to become members of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons, on payment of certain fees, without being required to undergo any further examination. The number of students who have passed for the Society's certificate is 1,183

Since 1874 the Society has annually voted a number of silver medals for class competition to each of the two veterinary colleges in Edinburgh & to the one in Glasgow

FORESTRY DEPARTMENT.

The Society grants first & second class certificates in Forestry. The examinations are open to candidates of any age
